Statement on demonstrators on Kerckhoff patio

May 23, 2024

Michael Beck, UCLA's administrative vice chancellor, and Rick Braziel, UCLA's associate vice chancellor for campus safety, said:

"The Office of the Administrative Vice Chancellor, in partnership with the Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor for Campus Safety, has withdrawn consent to remain on campus for the demonstrators on Kerckhoff patio, asking them to disperse immediately. There is reasonable cause to find that demonstrators' activities — including erecting barricades, establishing fortifications and blocking access to parts of the campus and buildings — are disrupting campus operations. Demonstrators have been informed that if they do not disperse, they will face arrest and possible disciplinary action, as well as an order to stay away from campus for seven days. This order would apply to non-affiliates, as well as students, faculty and staff. Our community members may appeal through the Office of the Administrative Vice Chancellor."
